

Who Killed Hollywood Is Industries' Question

Filmland's Members Pass Buck From Group to Group to Labor

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Imagine a Mother Goose fable in which subjects are arguing over the remains of a fallen giant.

"Who killed Hollywood?"

"Not I," cried the producer. "It was the star with his high demands and bad conduct."

"Not I," cried the star. "It was the company head with his mismanagement."

"Not I," cried the company head. "It was labor with his high pay and featherbedding."

"Not I," cried labor. "It was the runaway with his greed for foreign subsidies and taxless pay."

"Not I," cried the runaway. "It was the producer with his lousy movies."

Not down Yet

Nobody is quite ready to bury the Hollywood film industry, which shows amazing signs of life despite its grave ills. Diagnosis of those ills continues apace but one element has been overlooked until recently.

That is: What part if any have labor practices played in hastening the decline of American film production.

That decline can be documented by a glance at this week's production schedules. Today there are a dozen features being filmed at the Hollywood studios (average 15 years ago: 50).

Films shooting abroad fully or partly financed by American companies. 23 Plus native industries which produce more features each year in England, Italy, France, Japan and India than does Hollywood.

Says the ever-vocal producer-director Otto Preminger, who has made films abroad as well as here:

"U. S. Labor Expensive

"Hollywood labor is not at the moment competitive with film labor abroad. American labor is naturally more expensive because of our higher standard of living. Nobody wants to change that."

"But much money is wasted in production here because of featherbedding practices. These are not the whim of labor, they are permitted under existing contracts. I think it is important for labor and management to get together to make new contracts that would place American films in a more competitive position."

Producer-director Edward Dmytryk, just returned from making a film in Italy, agrees. "This situation isn't unique to movies. It's true in every American industry, they all must find ways to compete with the growing competition from abroad."

"You can shoot abroad with a crew half the size of a Hollywood crew, with men who earn a third less. Sure, Hollywood crews are the best, over all. But the European crews are getting better all the time."

"Here the costs make you shoot hell-bent for schedule. In Europe you can shoot two or three times as long for the same amount of money. You shoot more slowly, but that extra time allows for more quality."

Crews Aren't the Issue

On the other hand, Samuel Z. Arkoff, one of the chiefs of the low budget film maker, American International, says: "The cost of labor is not a big part of a movie budget. I would say the actual crew runs 15 to 20 per cent of the total cost. Even if you do cut down on crews, that won't materially affect the budget."

But George Stevens felt the issue was important enough to negotiate new agreements with certain unions. Despite blandishments of foreign lands, he chose to film his "Greatest Story Ever Told" here, but felt adjustments should be made in light of current economic conditions.

Said he: "Featherbedding, by discouraging regional shooting, actually robs our workers of their bread and butter. We are interested in something bigger—the survival of an entire industry."

Many lifetime friends were made in each segment of the journey. Much in the discussions at the roost of Charlie's Chickens were the deaths of three members of the entire troupe — one from the Northway Motel in Fond du Lac, over a mixup in reservations. The charge against Cummings still is pending in Fond du Lac County Court. A civil suit started by Shaw against Cummings also is pending.

Judge Dismisses False Arrest Suit

Two Appleton Policemen Freed Of Guilt in $50,000 Proceedings

A $50,000 false arrest and false imprisonment suit against two Appleton policemen, detective Jerome Kavaney and patrolman Herbert DeBruin, was dismissed in federal court Monday.

Federal Judge Robert Tehan, Milwaukee, threw out the case on a technical point after hearing the testimony of William E. Cummings, who initiated the suit Oct. 18, 1961. Cummings gave his address as Chicago.

Judge Tehan ruled that, in no event, could Cummings win $10,000 damages in the suit. The amount of controversy in any federal suit must be at least $10,000. Cummings cannot take the suit to another court of lower jurisdiction because the statute of limitations has taken effect.

Kavaney and DeBruin arrested Cummings Oct. 22, 1959, after the Appleton police department received a radio relay message from the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's department asking Cummings arrest.

Charge Pending

Cummings later was charged with intentionally causing bodily harm to Leland Shaw, owner of the Northway Motel in Fond du Lac, over a mixup in reservations. The charge against Cummings still is pending in Fond du Lac County Court. A civil suit started by Shaw against Cummings also is pending.

Let's Delegate Reapportionment

We have suggested that the legislature ought to act now, while it is in special session, to give preliminary approval to an amendment to the constitution to remove some of the mechanical barriers to reasonably equal representation of districts in the legislature.

This session ought also, we believe, endorse the idea of transferring the reapportionment task to another public agency—preferably the state supreme court or a special tribunal created at decennial intervals by that court.

Such a proposal would not be a disparagement of the idea of representative government. The court is also an elective body. The legislature has at least a hundred times delegated its constitutional authority to make law to subordinate agencies, most of them administrative departments not directly responsible to the electorate, in fact. It has concluded that it cannot adequately handle legislation in the field of pure food regulation, wildlife management, the regulation of insurance companies, banks and finance companies, safety in public buildings and places of employment, to name a few examples. It has delegated such tasks to specialized administrative officers, within a pattern of democratic controls including public hearings and the right of appeal to the courts, and under broad standards imposed by its own act.

The reapportionment task, it seems to us, falls in this category of responsibility that the legislature can handle less gracefully and effectively than can an independent agency.

More than some of the other responsibilities before the legislature, moreover, this one involves human and personal and partisan considerations that render the job difficult far beyond the inherently mechanical difficulties imposed by the law.

Our Madison correspondent has written about this human problem at length. He has observed legislatures closely for a quarter of a century. This reluctance to disturb legislative boundaries is intrinsically a limitation of the political personality, quite aside from the regional and party interests that might be involved also. A state legislator must be a sainted man, indeed, to vote for or even to resist denouncing a proposition that will deprive him of a seat and probably a political career.

This is the time to push such constitutional amendments. They won't interfere with the present reapportionment fight. An amendment must be approved by two separately elected legislatures and then by the electorate in a referendum. Thus ratification in 1964 would pave the way for an easy and equitable reapportionment, for the first time in our state history, when the 1971 legislature meets to consider the population distribution as shown in the census of 1970.

American Farm Policy

A careful examination of American farm policy has brought experts to the conclusion that the nation is now almost evenly divided between supporters of two proposals.

The one favored by former President Eisenhower and his secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, has been the gradual lowering of support prices to discourage surplus production and to remove controls as the surpluses dry up. The final goal is to return the country to a free market for agriculture.

The other theory supported by President Kennedy and his secretary of agriculture, Orville L. Freeman, calls for strict production controls to prevent surpluses from occurring. When supply is strictly controlled the demand will hold prices high enough to sustain farm income, they believe.

However, Congress is so closely divided between the two proposals that no agreement has been reached and the result has been a sort of halfway farm policy which tests neither theory. Under this no-policy status surpluses have continued to grow, thus creating heavy agricultural surpluses at tremendous cost to the government. Next to the Department of Defense the Department of Agriculture is the most expensive department of the executive branch with an annual budget close to $7 billion.

The recent defeat of the administration farm proposal has left the nation crying for a remedy but with little prospect of finding one. The recent estimates on the 1962 crop by the Department of Agriculture indicate that although it will be harvested from the smallest total acreage in 53 years the output of food and feed will be abundant. The department reports the crop prospects to be "good to excellent" and the prospects are that yields of major crops will be close to the high yields of a year ago. This, of course, is only another indication of the failure of our agricultural policy to reduce farm production and permit the disposal of the huge surpluses now being held by the federal government.

The department estimates that the harvested acreage this year will be 288 million acres or three per cent less than the 1961 total, and the smallest acreage since 1909.

The 1962 corn crop is estimated at 3.5 billion bushels. This is three per cent less than the 1961 crop, largely because of a two per cent reduction in acreage. The prospective yield of 61.2 bushels an acre is second only to last year's record, 61.8 bushels, and is 15.5 bushels above the 1951-60 average. Both the 1961 and the 1962 crops were planted under a program that called for large acreage reductions to help clear away the stored surpluses. The estimates are that the heavy corn consumption of the past year will reduce the stored surplus by about 300 million bushels and it is possible that another 300 million bushels of the corn carry-over will be nibbled away next year.

Thus, while some small gain is being made by way of reducing the surplus in this one crop, another goal of maintaining the farmer's purchasing power offers no such optimistic outlook. The report from Madison is that the farmer's purchasing power last month was the lowest in 22 years. The State Department of Agriculture says the June index of prices received by Wisconsin farmers was down one per cent from May to 79 per cent of the 1910-14 average. Declines were noted in the prices for milk, eggs and crops. Meat animals and poultry prices rose one per cent above June of last year. The price of milk, most important in Wisconsin, averaged approximately 23 cents below the June price for last year.

All of these things are known to the members of Congress and the leaders of the farm organizations. Nevertheless no one has found a way yet to bring about an agreement which would give an honest test to either of the proposals or the solution of the farm problem. So long as the congressmen and the farm leaders continue to use the farm problem as a means of obtaining political preferment, all the general public and the farmers can do is to stumble along with this inconclusive and most expensive government operation.

Great Day for the Boys

It was a great day for boys and the boys made the most of it.

The Fox Cities owe a vote of thanks to the sponsors and all the individuals involved for putting across so successfully Appleton's first Soap Box Derby.

An outsider can't imagine the amount of work involved in such a project. Planning began more than a year ago, and thousands of hours were spent in the last six months getting things ready.

The backstage crew was made up of adults, but the real stars of the show were the boys. It was a chance for youth to shine, and shine it did, with a display of ingenuity and sportsmanship that should serve as a guide to others.

As in all competitive events, only a few came away with the championship trophies. But every one of the boys is a winner.

Comforts at Mecca Ease Pilgrims' Ordeal

WASHINGTON—Though a pilgrimage to Mecca still tests Moslems' faith and endurance, it is gradually becoming less a ordeal.

Most of the devout Moslems who attended the recent annual rites at the sacred center in Islam have been returned to comfort rooms from their Arab Airlines to Southern Airways.

As they enter the sanitation or lavatory building, the pilgrims find a fan to ease the heatstroke of the summer. Then, if they can, they can also remember such pleasures as air conditioning and a hot cup of water.

In the 1950s, the King of Saudi Arabia paid $100 million larged. Hundreds of thousands of pilgrims can stand together in the open court before the holy city of Mecca — the cube-shaped Kaaba in Mecca — but here was the first Abraham at the shrine of God.

Air Conditioning, Too

To make room for the millions of pilgrims, the sprawling complex of chambers has been divided into a number of smaller buildings. A new air conditioning system has been installed.

The new air conditioning system has been installed in the new buildings. The old buildings are being renovated. The new buildings are being built. The old buildings are being renovated. The new buildings are being built.

Calls Headline on Giving Kennedy Authority to 'Help Reds' Distorted

Editor, Post-Crescent:

One wonders if the ghost of Joe McCarthy is hovering around the editorial offices of the Appleton Post-Crescent. The headline in your July 13, 1962 edition which read "House Votes Kennedy Authority to Help Reds" could be used as evidence to support this belief.

The headline in question was a masterpiece of distortion. It really doesn't matter if the people responsible for the headline are innocent of any devious desires to distort the news. The damage has already been done and can only be partially rectified by an apology from the editor and publisher of the Appleton Post-Crescent to the readers of this newspaper.

When foreign aid to Franco is discussed in the Appleton Post-Crescent one certainly does not see it discussed in terms of aiding Fascism and the gang that Hitler and his Italian puppet put in power.

Surely the editor of the Appleton Post-Crescent is aware of the fact that the Kennedy administration is not interested in helping Communist interests in the world. A ten year old child could tell the editor of the Appleton Post-Crescent that the exact opposite is true.

Economic aid to Poland and Yugoslavia is a strategic device which the Kennedy administration hopes will promote and strengthen liberal influences within the Communist governments of those countries. Admittedly this matter of strategy may not be wise, however, under the circumstances, the policy employed may have some merit. I am not in a position to really know.

When people read stupid headlines as the one mentioned above, how can they honestly make intelligent decisions concerning the wisdom of public policy when they have distorted information to guide them? Your headline writer might argue that the Associated Press news dispatch which followed the headline would clarify matters and actually contain information which is contrary to the spirit of the headline. Unfortunately, many people refuse to concern themselves with the details of the stories announced by the headline and consequently the damage perpetrated by a distorted and dishonest headline has been done.

Was this headline carried for its sensational effect? Perhaps a few more copies of the Appleton Post-Crescent were sold to members of the John Birch Society living in the Fox River Valley. I can see some of the local political demagogues waving this copy of the Appleton Post-Crescent to crowds of naive people as evidence of the "fact" that the Kennedy administration is "soft on Communism."

The editor of the Appleton Post-Crescent should hang his head in shame.

General Favors Arming Negroes

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Aug. 21, 1862.

"Letter by Gen. Hunter to Rev. Stephen Tyng, president of the National Freedman's Relief Association of New York City."

Headquarters, Department of the South — July 17 — I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication dated June 2, 1862, expressing to me the approval of my course in regard to the freed slaves of this Department.

Already I see signs in many influential quarters, heretofore opposed to my views in favor of arming the blacks, of a change of sentiment. Our recent disasters before Richmond have served to illuminaate many minds.

To speak of using the negroes for merely throwing up entrenchments is a step in the right direction, though far short of what must be the end. It has the advantage of making the further and final step, for men working in the face of the enemy must have arms with which to protect themselves if attacked suddenly.

On the whole there is much reason to be satisfied with the progress of public sentiment, considering how deeply rooted were the prejudices to overcome. The general failure of the nation to realize at first the proportions of the war and the impunity still extended to those Southern traitors who are panderers of the government by means of army and navy contracts, on the one hand, while giving excellent pay of long and pen to ex-militarists with our government and sympathy with the more coward and retrograde traitors of the South who are its arms against us.

Under the Capitol Dome

Threat of Court Intervention Dims

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The Republican legislature has rested its case, so to speak, in the legislative reapportionment controversy.

Its departure from the capitol under what amounts to an adjournment and its refusal to try to compromise with Gov. Nelson after his angry rejection of the bill that passed two weeks earlier poses the possibility that the federal district court will intervene to order reapportionment on its own.

But that is a calculated risk, as the Republican planners see it, and in any event they had very little choice remaining to them. Gov. Nelson under the exigencies of his own political situation had made it clear that he would not accept a bill that the Republicans could pass. And the Republican caucus deliberations had made it clear that a bill acceptable to the Democratic governor could not be passed without a divisive and dangerous schism in the party on the eve of a crucial and possibly close election.

THE CASE

The Democratic position in the fight, because of the mechanical considerations governing the writing and dissemination of news, has been fairly publicized. The Republican position, in the very nature of the amorphous institution that is the legislature, has not been so clearly articulated.

The position is in part argument on the merits and on the record of performance, and partly one of political instinct and hunch.

On the merits, the Republicans can show, first, that the distortion of legislative representation in Wisconsin is comparatively minor and that the existing distribution of legislative seats in relation to population is one of the better examples of legislative organization in the country.

The disparity by the most liberal construction amounts to four per cent — or four seats out of 100 in the assembly — and so little in the senate that there is in the most generous proposal the removal only of one senator from what is regarded as rural Wisconsin to urban Wisconsin.

The legislature enacted a bill that would have transferred two seats from the sparsely settled zones to the growing urban regions, and rearranged senate boundaries considerably as a consequence. It was less than Democratic Gov. Nelson wanted.

as he indicated by his resounding veto. But it was an improvement over the present situation, in a strict construction of the population redistricting requirement of the constitution, and the legislature can accurately say that it failed because of the governor's refusal.

AFTER-THOUGHT

To some extent such arguments, however, are afterthoughts. What really induced the legislature to let the record stand was its growing conviction that the threat of court intervention was not as real as it was earlier thought to be.

It had become obvious, from the matter-of-fact proceedings of the court reapportionment referee, among other developments, that there was only a remote chance for a court decision that would affect this year's elections. The legislature was in fact in session, and was in fact considering reapportionment. The court could hardly intervene while that record was being made. Now that the legislature has departed it is scarcely practicable, because of calendar limitations, to attempt reapportionment that would be effective with the forthcoming elections.

Judicial intervention in a legislative function is quite without precedent in the constitutional history of the state, or the country, until his year.

Will the courts, given the demonstrably slight disparity in legislative representation, be willing to indict the legislature under the circumstances?

The Republican leaders are betting that they won't, and that they will have through the 1963 session to complete this infinitely sensitive task.

Khrushchev Says He Will Raise Red Flag

From Burlington (Vt.) Free Press

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev gave Americans something to think about recently. Said the Communist boss:

"I am convinced that tomorrow the Red flag will fly over the United States. But we will not fly the flag. It will be the American people themselves."

This appears to be a paraphrase of something Khrushchev is supposed to have said about three years ago. In 1959 he reportedly declared:

"We can't expect the American people to jump from capitalism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving them small doses of socialism until they awaken one day to find they have communism."

Khrushchev wasn't joking three years ago. He wasn't joking recently, either.

Notes on a Favorite Subject, Ann-Margret

Studio's Grooming Winnetka Miss To Take Rita Hayworth's Place

BY JINGO

Ann-Margret, the Winnetka beauty, was something of a surprise when she made her wonderful appearance on the Oscarcast after appearing in two films. Although people who had seen "State Fair" shouldn't have been too surprised by the swinging lass of the Oscarcast, it was the reaction to that appearance and the people's reaction to her there and in "State Fair" that awoke Hollywood to the fact that it had a new star.

Jingo

After the discovery, Hollywood threw the star-making machine into high gear. The view apparently was, "Better late than never."

One of the first moves was Columbia Pictures' redating Rita Hayworth's old dressing room for Miss Olsen's use. Ann-Margret also inherited Miss Hayworth's Columbia title of "Love Goddess."

As the day follows the night, the big machine started spreading rumors of Columbia's planning on remaking some of Rita's films with, of course, Ann-Margret in her roles. The machine even says Ann-Margret's leading man will be Mickey Callan in Gene Kelly's old role in the remake of "Cover Girl." Jingo's thought is, will Phil Silvers play his own role himself? No one else could take the place of the old "How are ya" boy.

Not only does the machine say that Ann-Margret is going to al-said that Troy Donahue is all set to co-star with the "Love Goddess" in "Under the Yum-Yum Tree," that's a real parody on a TV idol in a TV film with a gal who became noticed on TV.

With the old fogies taken care of and the TV generation saluted, there's only one segment left to complete the blanket spread of the machine's rumors — and it has that covered too.

It is said that Ann-Margret the "Love Goddess" and the swing ing TV-film comedienne, is high on the lists to become — of all things — Elvis Presley's leading lady in the upcoming "Take Me to the Fair" extravaganza to be filmed in Seattle.

There's a real rock! Rita never had it THAT good! Lucky girl.

Labor Contract Set At Hamilton Company

TWO RIVERS (AP) — A new one-year labor contract covering more than 1,700 production workers at the Hamilton Mfg. Co. plant has been negotiated, it was announced.

A joint statement by Carpenters and Joiners Local 1533, AFL-CIO, and the Hamilton company said that agreement was reached Friday following bargaining talks that began in mid-May.

Although neither side would disclose specific terms, the agreement was said to have provided for a wage increase and an extra paid holiday at the choice of the union.

The Hamilton Company manufactures home appliances and medical dental and laboratory equipment.

It took very little to make Jingo — and many other people — go — and high Ann-Margret fans, and he and she are saddened by this latest turn of the big machine. It's the kind of thing that usually has all the flavor to it and it would be a union if Ann-Margret went Hollywood before all of the great features, home appliances and promise of the earlier machine output could be tried.

Expressways Plan Set for Fox Cities

between 7,400 and 6,000. State 96, River and connect with 41 at 5,200 to 3,400, and U.S. 10 south County Trunk CC.

Final section of the expressway continues south of Kaukauna, generally following the sweep of the Fox River, to cross over east of Kaukauna and connect with 41 at the state's proposed triple 41-JJ-96 interchange. It is at this point that the present relocation of U.S. 41 ends. Four lanes of his section north to Green Bay has not been timetable.

Two 24-Foot Lanes

Expressway design, in road-builders' jargon, is just under the freeway type — it employs a 210-foot right-of-way, a median dividing the two 24-foot one-way roadways, limited access, some grade separations and cutout lanes for any turns. There is no expressway as such in the Fox Cities area, although U.S. 41 varies between a freeway and expressway, depending on the section.

Backing up the expressway-freeway system, the Schellie firm has envisioned a network of primary and secondary arterial streets, plus collector streets. The primary arterials employ a 100-foot right-of-way and are four-lane with a median separating traffic. Secondary and collector streets are conventional, varying only in right-of-way.

Traffic Density

The primaries are designed to feed high density traffic into either the expressway-freeway system or into the inner service areas of the cities. For instance, between the Twin Cities and Appleton, this road shows the highest traffic count in 24 hours of any inter-city road in the area — some 8,000 vehicles.

In contrast, U.S. 41 hits between 7,400 and 6,000. State 96, River and connect with 41 at 5,200 to 3,400, and U.S. 10 south County Trunk CC.

Tipsy Drivers Fined $200

Menasha Man Seen Driving Dump Truck Erratically in City

OSHKOSH — Two area men pleaded guilty to charges of drunken driving and were fined $100 each and costs when they appeared Monday before Judge James V. Sitter in Winnebago County Court, Branch 3.

They were Anthony Berg, 47, of 314 Fourth St., Menasha, and Gerald H. Nelson, 21, of 1238A Pearl Ave., Oshkosh.

Berg was arrested by Neenah police at 5:45 p.m. Saturday after he was detected driving a dump truck in erratic fashion on Oshkosh's Main Street. He registered .24 on the drunkometer.

Nelson was arrested by Oshkosh police at 2:25 a.m. Saturday at the intersection of Jackson Street and Marion Road.

Nelson was uncooperative when questioned by Oshkosh police and was held in jail overnight.

Nelson escaped the mishap without injury, as did Rose Mary Neenah's Fletcher, 313 Bay St., Oshkosh, a driver of the other car.

erating with the Regional Planning Commission.

This group, the planners say, "would have the authority to implement and administer some type of regional official map." The planners are not sure about the legality of all this, however, and recommend the investigation of the legal aspects under the state law.

But, the planner state, the regional authority is the only effective way of getting a thoroughfare system for the area.

The planning commission's annual meeting is in March—the only full meeting each year. The commission's committees meet frequently and probably will get the thoroughfare plan. The full commission won't formally act on it until next year.

Still to come from Schellie are plans on public buildings and facilities, capital improvement programs for some of the communities and a comprehensive development plan.

Knights of Road Hold Reunion

Scraggly beards of eyebrow pencil, floppy hats that Dad discarded years ago and worn-torn clothes with brightly colored patches were the attire for the day Thursday at the Hobo Picnic at Madison Junior High School playground.

The 'Hobos' gathered at the park for their annual reunion then 'hit the road' to ask for handouts for their picnic dinner from neighboring homes.

The long arm of the law reached out to bring to a close the happy festivities in the hobo 'jungle' as the neighborhood patrolman asked the 'knights of the road' to move on.

Coming From the North, east, south and west of Madison Junior High School, a band of hobos, above, converge on the playground 'jungle.' Below, Cindy Abel and Luann De Vries swap stories of their experiences and travels since last year's 'reunion' at the park. The hobo picnic is part of the summer playground activities sponsored by the Appleton Recreation Department. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Richard Krueger, Above, smacks his lips as he accepts a handout from Mrs. Elmer Abel. The hobos had to 'panhandle' their dinner from residents in the neighborhood. Below, Chris Otis and Karen Bockin roast marshmallows over the 'Camp's' fire.

Two 'Knights of the Road' end their exhaustive travels as they near the hobo reunion site at Madison Junior High School playground. They are Wendy De Shaney and Vicki Vander Zanden.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

CUPID OVERWORKED

Our daughter is in love with a young man attending a college far away. They communicate via long distance telephone, talking an hour at a time, and if he doesn't call her, she calls him. Meanwhile, our phone bills are astronomical, and besides that, I don't believe in calling boys when they aren't even formally engaged.

Davis

How can I handle this problem?

Louise Davis Answers:

As parents of a daughter still subject to discipline, you have the natural right to forbid her to make these long distance calls. You have given your own good reasons as to why you should put your foot down. The solution is simple. All you and your husband need is to wield a couple of firm hands. It seems incredible that two young people would be so extravagant as to carry on an hour's conversation, because they are madly in love. At least part of it can be stopped by you even if your daughter argues that air mail is "so unsatisfactory."

DIVORCEE'S NAME

What is the proper way to address an envelope to a divorcee? I often read a name in newspapers as Mrs. Jane Doe. I always thought the name should be Mrs. Black Doe.

Louise Davis Answers:

A divorcee's name is addressed Mrs. Janet Doe.

Conceal Danger

When you have a two-way finesse you try to play through the dangerous opponent. If your play goes wrong, at least the lead will be in the safe opponent's hand. One way for the opponents to double-cross you is to confuse you as to which hand is safe and which is dangerous. West opens the king of hearts, and East offers mild encouragement by playing the four. follows with the five of hearts, and West continues with the jack of hearts.

East completes his high-low by playing the three of hearts, and South holds up once more. West naturally leads the queen of hearts, and South must take the ace.

Both defenders know where the missing nine of hearts is, but South doesn't know. East's mild encouraging signal doesn't surely promise heart length; East may have been unwilling to suggest a shift to any new suit.

Counts Points

South tries the diamond finesse next, losing to the king. By this time East should know that South has both black aces. South should have about 15 points since he not only opened the bidding but later accepted the invitation to bid game. With only 13 points, South would have declined the invitation.

If East cashes the last heart, South will have to try to guess the location of the queen of clubs. The trouble is that South may make the correct guess.

If East returns the jack of spades without cashing the last heart, South will assume that West has the missing nine of hearts. And then South will take the club finesse through West.

Only then is it proper for East to produce the nine of hearts. "Look what I just found," he may remark, and this will amuse everybody but North and South.

Well-Mannered Chairs

It's not at all bad manners for a new chair to turn its back on an interested observer — the about-face may be a polite invitation to study more of its style. When new furniture for fall arrives in the stores, many chairs will be shown in free-standing position, just as they were in recent previews, so beautifully designed backs like these can be seen from all angles.

Few rooms arrange best with all chairs with their backs to the wall, and decorative chair backs insure free arrangements that help rooms to look spacious. While chairs particularly benefit from rear attractions because of their size, and more wing chairs than we've seen for years will be shown this fall. This one was designed by Frank C. Lee, with more curves in the back than in the front and with wood on the outward covering of the wings. Norman McClellan's contemporary design floats soft seating that seems barely to touch its support and could be a prediction of increasing favor for armless chairs.

Designer Ronald Amey Dislikes Back Zippers

BY JOY MILLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Ever feel a woman should have been born with extra-long arms, to be able to zip up the back of her dress without dislocating her spine?

Designer Ronald Amey has a better solution. He puts a zipper across each shoulder instead of look. He designs all accessories down the back. This opens up the top of a dress and, since Amey has elasticized most midriffs, you can step right in and pull it up. He deliberately mismatched without ruffling hair or disposing of shoes. "I don't like the spotty usefulness away from a husband and making him feel less wanted, but think how it would cheer the spinster who has to do her own zipping."

Back Zipper Ugly
Actually, Amey opposed the center back zipper on aesthetic grounds. He thinks it's ugly. In one dress, fitted and non-elasticized, he uses two zippers in off-center back seams rather than the capitate and put one down the middle.

The visiting fashion press, ending out a week of viewing New York Couture Group fall collections, applauded his zipper ingenuity Friday afternoon and one editor cried "thank you, sir!" Amey, short, baldish and 30.

2 Cuban Designers
Fernandez, a top designer in Cuba when the Castro regime took over, fled to this country with only the clothes on his back. He started over again, successfully. His third collection for American women, which the fashion writers saw Friday, was admired for its dramatic elegance and brilliant color combinations.

Adolfo — full name Adolfo Sardinia — also a Cuban, came to New York in 1948, designed hats for Bragard and then Emme, and now has his own business. Small hats and exotic turbans were specialties.

Stavropoulos showed mostly long evening dresses of Grecian stateliness, with trains or back panels or one shoulder drapes. Hand-tatted lace, swirling chiffon and black velvet were favored fabrics.

Highlight of his showing was the unprofessional but game trip down the runway of a pretty, dark haired, substantial model wearing a long white dress. She was Nancy, his American-born wife and the romantic reason he moved his designing operations from Greece to the United States. Fashion editors gave her a big hand.

Fur Sparks Italian Fall Fashions

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — An eye-opening richness of furs brought big applause Sunday night at the showing of Venetian fall and winter collection in the Pitti Palace.

A particular favorite was a beige broadtail coat worn over a rib-hugging mink blouse and straight, shirred broadtail skirt. For daytime there were big fur hats meeting big fur collars at the eye.

For evening there were jeweled furs — a jet-strewn leopard jacket with white mink bands and a great cape coat of chinchilla skins joined by strips of glitter.

Rounded Shoulder Silhouette
Veneziani's silhouette had wide rounded shoulders on molded-front, hip-length jackets with rippling shell back. Skirts were shell-shaped, too. They were mid-knee in front and curved down to the top of the calf in back.

The night's other collection, Forquet's, featured big square kimono sleeves joined to a high-waisted bodice in easy shape-skimming design. His colors were interesting, especially with the strawberry wigs worn by all the models — petrol blue, dark China blue, pale russet, oatmeal and intense lavender pink.

Three-level costumes, also shown by Forquet last season, were done with short, tie-on boleros over fitted hip-length over-blouses and slim skirts. There were many seven-eighths tunics.

Blouses Were Outstanding
Soft blouses with long gathered sleeves, in crepe or chiffon, were outstanding. One of these in bronze brown crepe was worn with a double tier shirred black skirt.

He did few furs but those few were sensational. There was a close red fox cape with black fox collar and hat that met at the eye. There was a three-quarter brown otter coat, belted in black leather with the same hat and collar treatment, worn over a white satin sheath with deep otter hem.

Forquet evening designs had back-buttoned jackets with great kimono sleeves worn over skirts that puffed out stiffly and abruptly at the waist, then fell straight. Deep fur and silk petal borders were frequently used.

Towering peaked balloon head-dresses were worn with many of the evening clothes.

Barbers Against 'Sheared Sheep' Haircuts for Men

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hair-raising fashion note: Local barbers think men should wear their hair longer, and leave it growing down the back of the neck.

What's more, says Max Rothstein, president of Barbers Union Local 9, the male animal probably will be paying $4.50 for a haircut. He didn't say when. The union scale here now is $1.75 minimum.

The new style was demonstrated at the second annual Education Forum and Barber contest.

Rothstein said barbers are tired of cutting hair short, adding "some men look like sheared sheep, ridiculous."

And, what else is new? Barbers were told that soon they will be using a straight razor to cut hair instead of the scissors. Besides that, the customer's hair will be washed after cutting, set in a net and baked in an electric dryer.

Your Problems Wife Demands Spouse Stop Wearing Union Button Socially

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife and I read your column every day and we talk about it. Now I have a question I would like you to settle. Please print it so she can see your answer in black and white.

I am a member of a labor union. I like to wear my union button at all times because I'm proud of it. My wife says I should not wear a cellulose button with a local number on it when we go out socially — especially to church. She claims it looks out of place and embarrasses her.

I say a labor union button is a badge of honor and it is never out of place. After all, in some countries people can't join labor unions and I'm proud to have the privilege. Please decide who is right. — Union Man

CHILD-GUIDANCE EXPERTS NEVER AGREE AMONG THEMSELVES! TRUE FALSE

False. Many who pose as child this column, care of this newspaper. Can we know what is right and wrong today?

Yes. At least we can know a great deal about it. When moral standards are rejected, the group begins to fall apart. As people insist upon being a law unto themselves, conflicts increase. The mutual trust upon which social health depends begins to diminish. One good test of right and wrong is what happens to the common good. Right and wrong are not always easy to determine, but the basic principles are what they always have been.

Fixing Cement on Floor Tiles

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q The walls in our bathroom window for about an inch at the are covered with ceramic tile. The bottom to create a stronger air ment between tiles in one bath- current in the room in which the rooms is flaking and falling out fireplace is located.

Detergent on Rug

Q Some pink liquid detergent was spilled on my wool rug, leaving a hard matted spot. What can I do to remove that? I tried to sponge it with cold water, but got only suds, so I quit.

A Scrape off as much of the matted material as you can with a dull knife, without harming the rug fibers. Then, sorry to say, the only suggestion I can offer to remove the remaining material is to patiently continue sponging with cold water until no more suds result.

Taking Up Tile

Q We have a phalt tile on our kitchen dining area floors. How can we take the tile up? We want to replace it and can't place the new covering on top because the floor will be too high then.

A The easiest way is with about 10 pounds of dry ice placed on a small section of the tile for about 15 minutes; the intense cold makes both the tile and adhesive underneath brittle enough so that it can be easily pried up with a putty knife. While one "frozen" area is being pried up, the ice is brushed along to an adjacent section. Be sure to wear heavy gloves while working with dry ice.

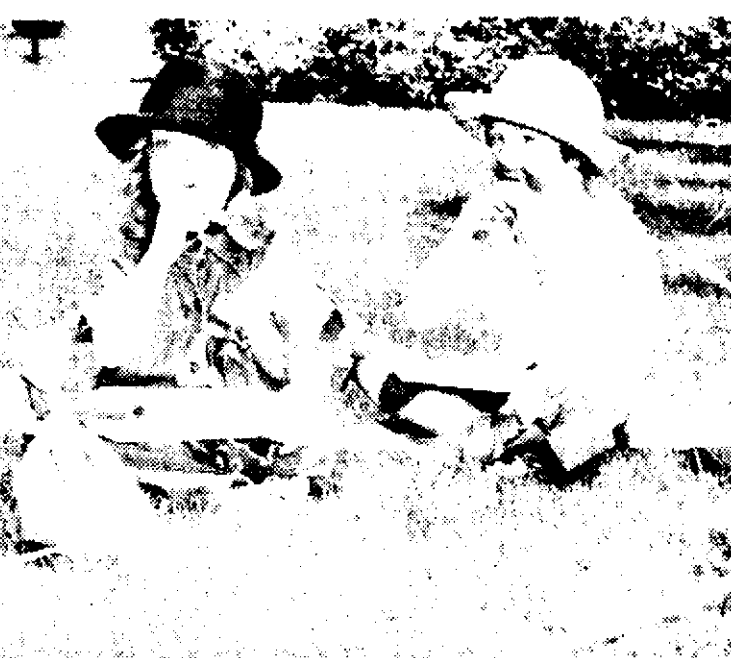

Protect Rugs From Mildew During Summer

Should you detect a musty odor in your home during the warm humid summer days, chances are that mildew is present in your rugs or carpeting.

Mildew is a fungus which grows on cellulose and protein materials under conditions of high temperatures and humidity especially in closed, poorly lighted rooms. This growth may be found in all parts of a rug from the wool fibers on the face to the jute in the backing.

The roots of fungus grow down inside the fiber, splitting it apart and thereby weakening it great- ly. By allowing continued growth, the fiber loses all its strength and complete deterioration of the carpet results.

The best remedy for mildew is pint of lukewarm water, and let to prevent it from happening dry. If the odor still persists, call Keep the humidity low and air a professional rug cleaner.

BERLIN — A German bride, who has asked to remain nameless, is back home in Berlin. After five years in the United States she said "I could not take it any longer."

Hers is a sad story because she loves America and her American husband.

"It was the debts," she said. "When we first started in our new home everything was wonderful. I do not mind work and happily I did the washing and the ironing and all the other chores every German housewife does automatically. But then the neighbors, kind people all of them, suggested I use their washing machine, their lawn mower, watch their TV."

"George, my husband, did not like this. He worked in a gas station and we could not afford to have the things our neighbors had, so, when he was finished at the gas station he worked in a radio shop. That was when we bought the TV on time. We finished up with George doing four different jobs and me having a TV, motor lawn mower, car and washing machine. All of these were still paying for the furniture and with all my husband's jobs we got further and further into debt. He is a good man and worked terribly hard so that I could live as well as our neighbors.

"I didn't want appliances that I would rather do the work by hand but he said he had his pride. Well, I had mine too. Not daring to open the door in case it was a bill collector was something I could not take. Then, with all the work George did, I did he was tired and all we did was quarrel.

"I went to one of those marriage consultants. He told me to get rid of all the things we could not pay for, but George would not hear of it. He said 'What will the neighbors think when the van comes to take the stuff away?' "So, I came away instead. I wish he would join me here and start again. State Awaits Study Before Giving Okay to Menasha's Bridge Plan

Other Priorities Make Early Approval Remote, Highway Official Warns

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — State approval of a new bridge across Little Lake Butte des Morts in Menasha will be contingent upon studies of the bridge project petitions must be considered in competition with other projects already on file and being master plan for future transportation facilities in the Fox Cities.

That was the comment Tuesday of Chairman Harvey Grasse of the state highway commission on the petition from the city of Menasha asking the state highway administration to initiate proceedings for the construction of the new span as outlined by the city government. The city petition suggested the construction of a new river crossing on Ninth Street extended westward, to connect with U.S. 41.

City officials in their covering letter told the state commissioners that such a project would culminate a 75 year dream of civic improvements in their community.

Grasse wrote the city administration that his department will co-operate with the city in planning its urban improvements, but in answer to a question he indicated that there is comparatively little prospect for early approval of the suggested structure.

The state highway budget is already strained, he said, and being considered in competition with other projects already on file and being master plan for future transportation facilities in the Fox Cities.

The proposed structure would not be a part of the state highway system, and thus special financing would have to be arranged, he explained.

Grasse reported that Rep. William K. Van Pelt of Fond du Lac, the congressman for the Sixth Congressional district, had telegraphed his backing of the bridge petition filed by the Menasha mayor and city council.

Neenah Police Blitz Speeders

NEENAH — Eight persons were arrested and 20 received warnings Monday as the result of a crack-down by Neenah police on speeding. All of speeders were detected in either the 600 block on Oak Street or the 800 block on West Cecil Street.

Responding to numerous complaints by residents in the two areas of frequent speeding, Neenah police utilized their newly acquired radar unit in an unmarked car to facilitate detection of the violators.

Most of the persons detected were driving only a few miles per hour in excess of the speed limit, otherwise they too would have been ticketed for speeding rather than just issued a warning, a Neenah police spokesman said.

Predicts Swimming Pool Budget Deficit

The 1962 budget had estimated for swimming pool operations this year is almost certain. Recreation Director Robert Vanevenhoven warned the common council Monday night at the committee of the whole meeting.

The aldermen felt Vanevenhoven should continue operating for the next few weeks and ask more money if necessary to keep the pool open until Labor Day.

The deficit will occur, said Vanevenhoven, unless the weather and ticket sales improve enough to realize $4,000 receipts by the end of the season.

School Bond Sale Will be Discussed

MENASHA — Sale of $713,000 bonds for two school projects, purchase of land for a new city garage and further action on the electric generating plant expansion project will be on tonight's common council agenda.

Bids on the bond sale were received at 1 p.m. today. City Clerk Harry Kind was to prepare the net bids and costs for action tonight on expansion of Butte des Morts Junior High School, for $573,000, and adding a vocational school wing at the high school, $140,000.

The council will be asked to rescind its action of Feb. 20 to buy 27.38 acres of land at $1,905 an acre for a total of $52,138 from Edward Zielinski and substitute purchase of a lesser amount. Because of faulty description of the parcel, the city had contracted for 3.03 acres more than existed.

The new proposal is to buy 24.35 acres at $1,905, for a total of $46,386 — with $10,000 down and the balance due in five equal installments of $7,277 and interest at 3 per cent.

building will be less than for just heating the conventional type of building of equal size.

The heating will work this way. Construction will reduce to a minimum normal sources of heat loss, such as through ventilation, large expanse of windows and outside walls. Heat given off by the bodies of the occupants and from the high level lighting will be captured through the air conditioning system. All air conditioning involves removing heat from the air inside the building and putting it somewhere else.

Instead of being wasted, the heat will be used to warm the outside rooms of the building, if it is needed. If it isn't, it will be stored in water. In other words, it will be used to heat water, which can be stored at a higher than room temperature and then re-circulated when needed. The heat also will be used to furnish hot water consumed in school activities.

In periods of non occupancy, less heat will be required to heat the building and will be provided

Defense Claims Illegal Search In Theft Case

Lawyers for Four Chicagoans Want Evidence Suppressed

OSHKOSH — Briefs were ordered by County Judge James V. Sitter on a defense motion to suppress the evidence on the ground of illegal search and seizure in the case against four Chicagoans charged with fur thefts valued at $1,600.

Charged with thefts are Willie Williams, 23, Eddie King, 26, Angela Jones, 23, and Geraldine Gay, 29, all of Chicago.

They are accused of taking the furs from Newman's Ladies' ready-to-wear store in Oshkosh April 16. The four also are charged in the robbery of furs from Geenen's Department store in Appleton, April 16.

King still is in custody in Columbia County jail, while the others, out on $1,000 bond each, were at this morning's preliminary hearing. No testimony was taken because the defense immediately moved for suppression of the evidence, charging illegal search and seizure.

Judge Sitter set July 26 for filing of defense briefs supporting the motion and Aug. 3 for a rebuttal brief by Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber. Next proceedings were set for Aug. 7.

On hand to testify this morning was Menasha Police Chief Lester Clark, who was chief of police at Wisconsin Dells in Columbia County, where the four were arrested in April.

shearing characteristics of the ground, he said.

It is hoped the permanent water measuring devices will help minimize the cost of corrective measures, Warzyn says.

Just what can be done to stabilize the ground and stop the slippages can't be known until the causes are determined, Duszynski pointed out. No possible estimate can be given now on what the corrective measures will cost, he said.

No Guesswork

Warzyn said that unless a field and laboratory investigation is undertaken his firm could make recommendations only on "our present impression as to the cause of the bank instabilities." That would amount to an educated guess, and the city's street and sanitation committee was unanimous Monday in agreeing that the situation is much too delicate for guesswork.

If corrective measures were recommended on guesswork, Warzyn says "it would be a case of providing the installation and hoping that it would perform satisfactorily."

Here is a breakdown of the estimated costs for the full scale investigation. Soil borings and special samplings will cost about $3,000 to $4,000. Laboratory testing, analysis of all data, and engineering recommendations for a solution, may cost $3,000 to $3,500. Installation of the permanent ground water measuring devices will come to another $1,000 to $1,500.

GOP Governor Candidate Wants General Sales Tax

Wilbur Renk, Sun Prairie, campaigning in Appleton Monday for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, called for a 2 per cent general sales tax and possible elimination of personal property taxes as a boost to business in a speech to the Appleton Lions Club.

A general sales tax, with certain exemptions, would probably enable the state to eliminate personal property taxes completely by 1965, he said, and this would help create a better atmosphere for business which the state needs.

Renk also said that improvements are needed in education, highways and conservation. He called for a better system of highways for long-distance travel to the state. Noting that 20 per cent of tourists to Wisconsin come from Chicago and 60 per cent from Illinois, he proposed divided highways from Chicago as far north as Wausau.

10 Persons Uninjured In Two-Car Accident

NEENAH — Three adults and seven children escaped without apparent injury in a two-car mishap at 12:06 p.m. Monday at the intersection of Oak Street and East Doty Avenue.

Of one adult and seven youthful passengers in the Sundin vehicle, only one complained of injury. She was seven-year-old Janice Peterson, who was advised to consult a doctor because of a sore finger.

Charge Woman On Fraud Count

Claims She Found $4,500 in Home While Cleaning

OCONTO (AP) — Mrs. Marvin Williams, 50, who told police she found about $4,500 in her house while cleaning, was arrested Monday on a fraud charge brought by the Oconto County welfare director.

Police found the money in wallets scattered around the house. Mrs. Williams and her 55-year-old husband came here in 1950 from Green Bay, where she had been a waitress, according to authorities.

Police Chief Henry Toole said Mrs. Williams seldom had left the house since moving here, had not been outside for two years and always kept the doors locked.

Husband in Jail

Toole said Williams was serving a short sentence in the Oconto County Jail for failing to comply with a city order to connect water and sewer services to the house.

The chief said the couple had been on and off relief for several years and that Williams had not worked during that period except for occasional pin-setting jobs.

Police said the money, some of it in large old-fashioned bills, was found in about 50 billfolds, one inscribed with the name of an Oconto resident.

The complaint in the fraud charge was brought by Henry Hendrickson, director of the county welfare department.

A share valued at $178,103 will go to Helen Hooper of Winnefox Point, Menasha, a niece. Also sharing in the estate are another niece, Mabel Hooper Kellett, Winnefox Point, Menasha, $10,000; $10,000; Edward B. Hooper, Neenah, a nephew, $10,000; and William S. Youth Awaits Sentencing on Two Counts NARCISO O. Polanco, 17, Bear Creek, was ordered held in Outagamie County jail without bond until 1:30 p.m. Wednesday when he will be sentenced on charges of disorderly conduct and driving without a Wisconsin driver's license.

Polanco has a Texas driver's license, but he has established residence in Wisconsin, which requires him to have a state license.

Polanco pleaded guilty to both charges when he appeared in County Court, Branch 2, today. He was arrested by sheriff's department officials who said he attempted to frighten at least three persons in Bear Creek with a letter opener knife and a starter's pistol.

According to Sheriff's Lt. Jack Zuelzke, Polanco and several companions stopped a car with two 14- and 15-year-old girls, and two 18-year-old Clintonville youths Sunday by firing the starter pistol near the car.

Polanco then threatened Dennis Hoffman, and Gary Norder, the Clintonville youths, with the letter opener and scuffled with them, authorities said.

Polanco showed the gun and letter opener knife Monday morning when he sought one of the girls' fathers at his place of business, Zuelzke said. The father reportedly had called Polanco a name.

Overland String Chase Fun For Large Groups to Play

foxes hide and wait for the hounds to find them.

After the foxes have had their 10-minute head start the hounds, formed into two teams start out in search of them, hunting for the strings. It is important for each team to gather as many strings as possible because their scores depend upon the number

Cross Country String Chase is a game just right for summer vacation. No less than four can play it. 10 or more will make the game even more exciting.

The material needed is string in two bright colors. Each color must be cut into 50 pieces half a foot long.

Two boys or girls are chosen to be the foxes and each is given 50 pieces of string of one color. The foxes are given a 10 minute head start. Each chooses a different route through any area where there are trees, shrubs and hiding places. As soon as they are out of sight of the other players who are the hounds the foxes begin marking their trails with the pieces of string.

One piece of string may be tied to a tree branch, another may be dropped on the ground a little distance away. Still another may be placed on a stone or laid in the crack of a concrete sidewalk. The foxes continue in this manner, trying to drop their strings in out-of-the-way places to make it difficult for the hounds to trace them.

At the end of their trails the

Fliers Bomb, Sky-Dive at Club Fun-Day

Appleton Man Free Falls More Than Half a Mile

OGDENSBURG — The Central County Fliers Association Sunday sky-dived and bombed to promote aviation at the club's annual fund-day at the club airport north of here.

Featured attraction of the day was a sky diving demonstration by George Waring, 24, Appleton, who hailed out at 5,200 feet and opened his parachute at about 2,000 feet.

Waring jumped from a plane owned and flown by David Lind, say Manawa. Waring dropped a streamer from about 2,000 feet to determine the direction of the wind drift.

When he made his jump Waring landed about two blocks from the hangars at the edge of a swamp. It was his 30th jump.

Local fliers held a bombing contest. Planes were flown over the target area and dropped bags of flour.

The crowd averaged between 400 and 600 people.

Carol Sorenson Takes Medal In State Meet

Mrs. Zuehlke Duels Mrs. Houston In First Round

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Carol Sorenson, the 19-year-old two time champion from Janesville, has launched her bid for a third

Carol Sorenson

Wisconsin Women's Golf Championship by taking the medal in the 50th annual tournament.

Miss Sorenson, already the winner of two major tournaments in the summer tour, was 77 on a 101 in the first round, but she closed by defeating champion Mrs. Marilyn Williams of Milwaukee as the tournament moved into match play today.

A third former titleholder, Mrs. Paula Clauder, also survived Monday's qualifying test, which trimmed a field of 125 to 16 for the title flight. Match play was set to begin at 8 a.m.

Miss Sorenson, medalist last year, entered the Wisconsin meet fresh from her triumph in the Women's Western Amateur Tournament at South Bend, Ind. A short while earlier she took the intercollegiate title. The winner of the state crown in 1959 and 1960, Miss Sorenson was ousted in the semifinals last year by Mrs. John Erickson of Madison.

Rain Falls

Rain fell for about 90 minutes during the morning round Monday, but it didn't bother Miss Sorenson as she carded a 36, one under par on the 37-37 layout at Tripoli Country Club. She went three over in the afternoon, taking a 40 for a 2-over-par 76 and a one stroke edge over Mrs. Williams who carded 38-39-77.

Mrs. Clauder, who has won the title six times, was third with a 79 on nines of 40 and 39.

Mrs. Kenneth Houston of Green Bay and three Milwaukeeans, Linda Pule, Mrs. E. J. Mercer and Mrs. W. A. Hebelev survived a sudden death playoff to gain the title flight. They had tied with Mrs. Robert Bell and Mrs. Ellen Drake both of Milwaukee, who were eliminated.

Kate Ahern of Fond du Lac took the junior medal finishing with a 41-43-84, or one stroke ahead of Carol Jean Sorenson of Racine who had a card of 43-42-85.

In today's match play, Miss Sorenson was paired with Mrs. Milton Roessler, Milwaukee, who had an 88 on nines of 44-44. Mrs. Williams was matched against Mrs. L. J. Brodd, Milwaukee, 43-44-87, and Mrs. Clauder met Mrs. D. A. Gallun, Milwaukee, 43-45-88.

Other pairings for today were Louise Gammell, Milwaukee, and Miss Pule.

Mrs. Francis Russo, Janesville, and Mrs. Hebelev.

Sally Kloppenberg, Milwaukee, and Mrs. Mercer.

Quincy pitcher Paul Deem, in stretching Fox Cities' scoreless skein to 19 innings Monday night, struck out 13 batters. The Foxes' scorebook has now been decorated with 85 Ks (the strikeout symbol) in eight second-round games.

It was difficult to decide whether the right-handed Deem was a better pitcher or hitter as he evened his record at 8-8. He doled out only three hits and whacked out four himself. Deem drove in three runs with a double and three singles. In his fifth at-bat, Deem hit solidly to right field, but the ball was hauled in by Dan Markowski.

2 Hit Homers Wayne Coleman and Ken Free belted homers as the New York Mets' farm-hands massaged three Foxes pitchers for 14 safeties. The loss went to starter Steve Cosgrove, who yielded seven hits and five walks in 5 1-3 innings and unleashed three wild pitches.

John Scruggs, who reached base every time, was the only Fox who treated Deem like an ordinary hurler. He received the benefit of a wild-pitch third strike his first time up, then walked, tripled, and singled in subsequent appearances.

Don Engbers, with a third-inning single, accounted for the only other hit off Deem.

Quincy, which scored in every inning but two, started the Foxes on the skids in the first on Ed LaDuke's double, an infield out and a wild pitch.

Coleman blasted a 2-run homer over the left field wall in the second. LaDuke's sacrifice fly and a dropped throw by Foxes catcher Bill Shirah put the Jets ahead, 5-0, in the fifth. Deem socked a 2-run single in the sixth.

Yankees Push Lead to 3 1/2 Games By Trimming Kansas City, 3-1

BY BOB GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer

Just as if they didn't have enough going their way to start with, the American League leading New York Yankees also have the schedule working for them.

The Yankees, slowly moving away from the pack, owe their expanding lead to a dominance over the weaker clubs in the league. What's more, the world title fight they had tied with Mrs. Robert Bell and Mrs. Ellen Drake both of Milwaukee, who were eliminated.

Rookie Tackle Kepner Shines In Lengthy 1-on-1 Drill

BY LEE REMMEL Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Never one to dally, taskmaster Vince Lombardi showed his world champion Packers no mercy opening day—as usual.

He had a cast of 39, including 19 early bird veterans, in full pads and knocking heads with considerable vigor on the Oneida Street practice field under Monday afternoon's leaden skies.

Much of the swift-paced session was devoted to a lengthy 1-on-1 drill, a rigorous exercise that showcased at least one rookie—curly-haired Tom Kepner, mountainous rookie tackle from Villanova.

The massive Kepner, a Catholic All-America selection last autumn, held firm against charge after charge during the man-to-man combat and once hurled back a 235-pound colleague with impressive ease.

A Billowy 277 It was, however, a long day for the king-sized freshman, who dismayed Lombardi and his aides by reporting at a billowy 277 pounds.

His broad countenance a virtual lake of perspiration, Kepner said, "Hitting heads today was okay but those drills are tough."

"I saw Daddy Lipscomb (6-8, 290) with the Pittsburgh Steelers, and a few others, and I thought all pro ball players are about 275 or 280 pounds," Tom confided, somewhat sheepishly. "I finished the season last year at 260."

"I thought I should be a little heavier going to a pro team so that if I lost a few pounds I'd still be big enough," he explained, "but that wasn't right."

guess. The coaches want me to lose weight."

At this point in the conversation, Defense Coach Phil Bengtson approached from the direction of the shower and queried with more than casual interest, "How much did you lose, Tom?"

"I don't know, I didn't have a chance to check yet," Kepner replied, then appended with a shy grin and a mop of the brow, "it must have been at least six pounds."

Receives Advice Accepting this "report" with some satisfaction (a later check disclosed the blue-eyed giant had been right on target — he weighed in at 271), Bengtson admonished him, not unkindly, "Lay off the water, water can really put it on you in a hurry, and Selig and Green Bay's Marshall Smith tied for runnerup laurels, at 77.

Qualifying play in regular and junior divisions was to take place today.

Red-Hot Pirates Top Cards, 5-2, for 17th Win in Last 21 Games

Bonus Hurler Bob Garibaldi Stops Met Rally

BY JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

Roberto Clemente thought he should have been voted the National League's Most Valuable Player two years ago when he helped Pittsburgh win the pennant by batting .314. But Pirate shortstop Dick Groat, who won the batting title with .325, won the award.

Clemente thought he should have received the MVP award last year when he led the league with a .351 batting average. But the Pirates finished sixth and Frank Robinson of the pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds gained the honor.

So this year Clemente figures the only way he can grab the coveted title is by winning the batting title again while Pittsburgh takes the pennant. Both Roberto and the Pirates are making a determined bid to do just that.

14th Straight With Clemente hitting safely in his 14th consecutive game, and utility infielder Johnny Logan coming through with a grand slam homer, the Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2 Monday night, inching within four games of the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers. It was the Pirates' 17th victory in their last 21 games.

The second-place San Francisco Giants edged out the New York Mets 3-2 to narrow the Dodgers' margin to two games while Milwaukee's Braves, behind the six-hit pitching of southpaw Bob Hendley, blanked the Cincinnati Reds 3-0. Rain forced the postponement of the Chicago Cubs-Houston game. The Dodgers and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

Clemente complained, "What you supposed to do to impress the writers?" when he finished eighth in 1960 and fourth in '61, in the shorter ABL schedule. He said MVP voting. This season he's trying to leave little room for argument.

The Puerto Rican outfielder is batting .349, only four points behind pace setting Tommy Davis of Los Angeles. In the last month, he has batted .430, hitting safely in all but four games. Clemente's torrid bat has kept the Pirates in More negotiations. Lucas said his contract was for playing in the ABL, not the NBA.

New Contract Lucas met over the weekend with George Steinbrenner, president of the Pipers, who said Monday night Lucas had agreed on a new two-year contract and would join the Pipers right at the start.

In Columbus, Lucas said he signed Sunday night, adding that the new agreement "is a larger contract, one which is agreeable to both parties."

He would not disclose the actual amount, saying he would be in Cleveland this weekend to work out the final details.

Steinbrenner said the new contract would be for two years.

McMillan, Adcock Hit Home Runs

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves have been finding it tough to push across runs, but southpaw Bob Hendley has showed them how to win.

Hendley fired a six-hitter, struck out five and didn't walk a man as he posted his second shutout of the season by blank-ing the Cincinnati Reds 3-0 Monday night before a crowd of 7,370 at County Stadium.

Joe Adcock and Roy McMillan backed Hendley's fine pitching with homers against former Brave Joey Jay, the big right-hander who had defeated Milwaukee five straight times since being traded to the Reds.

Hendley, a victim of bloop hits in his last start against St. Louis, was in command all the way. He wound up his sixth victory in 12 decisions by striking out slugger Wally Poff after Frank Robinson doubled off the wall in left with two out in the ninth.

Cardenas Singles Only two other Cincinnati runners reached second. With one out in the sixth Leo Cardenas singled and then tried for third on a hit to left by Eddie Kasko. Left fielder Lee Maye fumbled the ball momentarily, but recovered in time to cut down Cardenas with a perfect throw to third baseman Eddie Mathews. Post singled and stole second in the seventh, but was left stranded.

Adcock hit Jay's first pitch in the fourth inning for his 13th homer of the campaign. Cincinnati centerfielder Vada Pinson made a leaping attempt at the wall in left center, but the ball soared over his glove into the bleachers.

Hendley walked with one out in the seventh and Roy McMillan followed with his ninth homer. McMillan, obtained in the deal for Jay, ran the count to 3-2, fouled off a couple of fast balls and then leaned into a breaking pitch for his third hit of the game. The smash cleared the wall in left near the bleachers.

Ken Aspromonte singled after McMillan's homer and Bill Henry relieved Jay, who was charged with the loss. Jay has a 12-9 record.

The Braves met the San Francisco Giants tonight in the opener of a three-game series. Southpaw Warren Spahn, owner of an 8-11 record, is Milwaukee's pitching choice. The Giants plan to counter with Billy O'Dell, who has won 10 and lost eight.

Steelers Hire Walls as Chief Talent Scout

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League said Monday they have hired Will Walls as chief talent scout.

He will take the place of Art (Pappy) Lewis, who died after a heart attack about a month ago.

The 46-year-old Walls is a graduate of Texas Christian University, where he played from 1935-37. Walls has coached at a number of colleges. Until recently, he was a talent scout with the Dallas Texans of the American Football League.

Tom Schultz Pitches Pair Of No-Hitters

KIMBERLY — Tom Schultz pitched two no-hitters in the Pee-Wee Baseball League at Kimberly last week, bringing his season's total to three.

Schultz led the Pirates to an 11-0 win over the Celts, a 5-0 win over the Cards and a 6-0 win over Braves. Dan Schneck had four hits off Schultz in the losing effort for the Braves. The first two games were no-hitters. The Pirates lead with an 8-1 record. The Dodgers are 6-1.

In other games, the Cards scored 10 runs in the last inning to decision Giants, 12-11. Tom Palowski was the winning hurler. Tim Vandehey hit two homers and a triple besides pitching the Giants to a 10-0 win over the Reds. The Giants dropped a 10-4 decision to the Colts, with J. M. Ruch the winning hurler.

The Dodgers defeated the Reds, 3-0, behind the hurling of Lee Wyngaard. Wyngaard also pitched in a 1-0 decision over the Cards.

The Braves tipped the Mets, 10-5. Dan Schneck was the winning hurler. He was aided by a grand slam homer by Gary Schub.

Falcon II Is the Apparent Winner In Mackinac Race

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP) — The 45-foot sloop Falcon II, second across the finish line in the 235-mile Port Huron to Mackinac Island yacht race, was the apparent over-all winner today on corrected time.

Gypsy crossed the finish line first Monday—54 hours, 22 minutes after she left Port Huron—but Falcon II, given a 1 hour, 20-minute handicap on Gypsy, came in close behind.

Falcon's corrected time was 49:55:01, Gypsy's 50:57:03. There was a chance a Class C boat might take the corrected time victory later but most of the fleet was becalmed when the two Class A sloops finished.

First in Class B was the Meteor III, with a time of 57:35:29 corrected to 50:05:44.

Falcon, skippered by 72-year-old Clare Jacobs of Bayview Yacht Club, closed in on Gypsy Sunday when she picked up a gentle offshore breeze near Thunder Bay.

Ryan Believes He Has Chance to be No. 1 QB

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Ryan, who is studying for his doctorate in physics at Rice Institute, "I asked to be traded. 'Truly, I was beginning to get worried when there was no news. So it was a welcome telephone call from the Browns'." Concidentally, the news came on his 26th birthday last Thursday.

Ryan was in Cleveland for a day's briefing by Blanton Collier, the National Football League's chief backfield coach. Neither Collier nor Ryan, who like Nixon, enjoys running with the football, believe he'll have any trouble adjusting.

"Good Mind"

"He has a good mind, grasps things in a hurry," Collier explained. "He got those fundamentals down fast."

"Such things as signals and number of plays could be 'ducks' for Ryan, who flew back to Houston for a summer on 'geometric function theory'."

Chicago Daily News Service

CHICAGO — The latest reports from Las Vegas show Sonny Liston now 8-5 in preliminary betting, ahead of his fight with Floyd Patterson at Comiskey Park, Sept. 25, but there must be a bundle of Patterson money still around, and they'll strip the rubber bands from it in plenty of time.

When Floyd and Ingemar Johansson kept their first date in June of '59 at Yankee Stadium, only 18,215 fans showed up, because nobody knew much about Ingemar, except that he was a Swede (thus lending "international flavor" to the fight) and that he'd decked Eddie Machen in one round.

But 2,500 of those customers bought $100 seats which helped provide a live gate of $470,712. There will be 5,000 seats at that price in Comiskey Park for a battle that everybody knows has been in the making for two years.

"If we don't do at least $850,000 in Chicago alone, I'll be disappointed of Championship Sports, Inc."

Bolan also believes that the theater television demand for Liston and Patterson will tax every available facility.

Earl Torgeson, former White Sox first-sacker, is opening a boys' camp at Westfield, Wis., Aug. 5 through Aug. 26, with baseball, basketball and swimming as the chief recreations.

Clintonville Clinches Tie For Crown

Scores 11th Straight Win In Legion Loop

FOX VALLEY LEGION LEAGUE (Central Division)

	W	L
Clintonville	11	0
Waupaca	8	3
Appleton	7	3
Manawa	6	4

Monday Night's Results:
Clintonville 7, Manawa 9
Appleton at Kimberly, ppd.
Wednesday's Games:
New London at Waupaca (5:45 p.m.)
Little Chute vs. Kaukauna (8:45 p.m.)

Defending champion Clintonville clinched at least a tie for the Central Division Fox Valley Legion League championship by winning its 11th consecutive game, dropping Manawa, 7-2, here Monday night.

Dick Postel took credit for the win, not allowing a walk, and giving up only five hits in nine innings. He fanned four.

Bill Meizer, hitting a triple, and Jim Korb and Bob Brandenburg — with doubles, led Clintonville's attack.

The only other league game scheduled for Monday, Appleton at Kimberly, was postponed until next week because a park was not available.

Reveal Bowsfield Had Mild Form of Polio

Angel Southpaw Helped by Shots, Shock Treatments

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Left-hander Ted Bowsfield of the Los Angeles Angels was warming up for a game against Boston here the night of May 30 when he made a frightening discovery.

He couldn't throw the ball hard enough to get it to his catcher. Bowsfield didn't start the game but there was no apparent cause for real alarm. It looked like just another sore arm.

Monday Bowsfield explained the trouble.

He had polio.

The club naturally didn't say so but there was a chance Bowsfield might never have pitched again, even though he had only a mild form of the disease.

Bowsfield's left arm was so weak he couldn't lift a three-pound weight. The disease, doctors said, had caused a collapse of the muscles high in the back of his arm.

Dr. Robert Woods, the club physician, said it might have been much worse if Bowsfield hadn't had Salk anti-polio shots.

He underwent a series of electrical shock treatments, but for a while it didn't look as though they were doing much good. Bowsfield tried to play catch one night, and couldn't throw the ball 20 feet.

"But my arm got a little stronger every day," he said, "and before long I was able to throw the ball from the outfield to the infield."

Didn't Pitch

Ted didn't pitch again until Bennett won the feature event of June 20, when he started a game the Shiocton Speedway races Sunday.

Glen Besette, Appleton, and said Bob Schroeder, Medina, finished second and third, respectively.

The top three in the semi-feature were Ray Trudell, Appleton; Erv pings, allowed only one run and Luebke, Bear Creek, and Len Gilbertson, Nichols, 5-1.

Winners and runners up in the individual heats were Trudell and Luebke, first heat, Al Trudell, Appleton, and Don Moderson, Nee-ming, second heat; Bennett and Bessette, third heat, and Bill Stew- in the process—before taking a loss Monday as the Angels were Bear Creek, fourth heat.

Tom Stulan, Shiocton, won the demolition.

"I think I've got this thing whipped," he said.

Two Appleton Girls Get Brazilian Assignments With Peace Corps

Miss Lesselyong Will Work in Wild San Francisco River Valley Area

Appleton's first Peace Corps volunteers interested in current at volunteers will leave in October," she said, "and when I Corps group to Brazil, and the first medical group there. The first group included 41 agricultural extension and home economics agents who arrived in March in the same area. The volunteers receive a termination pay of $75 a month, a total of $1,800. All their expenses are paid. They receive two and one-half days a month vacation and are encouraged to visit other countries. Tours are arranged for them if they are interested by sea and air.

Miss Lesselyong, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Lesselyong, 1115 1/2 N. Lawe St., and Miss Janice Kneip, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kneip, 1347 W. Lawrence St., will leave Sunday for a training period at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla., and will be on their way to Brazil Oct. 23.

Miss Lesselyong is a licensed practical nurse who worked as an instrument nurse in surgery at Appleton Memorial Hospital. She was interested in working overseas by Miss Adeline Wichman, an Appleton woman who is a missionary to Ghana, Africa. She believes the Peace Corps will give her "a good way to see the country — and help people, too."

Miss Kneip is a sophomore studying medical technology at Oshkosh State College, where she transferred after spending her freshman year at Mount Mary College, Milwaukee. "I was al-

They will receive another two week orientation in the valley and then be assigned to their posts. This will be the second Peace Corps group to Brazil, and the first medical group there. The first group included 41 agricultural extension and home economics agents who arrived in March in the same area. The volunteers receive a termination pay of $75 a month, a total of $1,800. All their expenses are paid. They receive two and one-half days a month vacation and are encouraged to visit other countries. Tours are arranged for them if they are interested by sea and air.

Members of the group will get acquainted during the two month training period at the University of Oklahoma. Their training will include an intensive course in Portuguese, study of tropical diseases, a refresher course in public health nursing, a physical fitness program, a course in the customs, culture and history of Brazil, and a refresher course in the civilization of the United States and world problems.

Miss Lesselyong, a native of Appleton, is a 1959 graduate of Appleton High School. She received her nurse's training at the Madison Vocational School.

The 20-year-old nurse who "always wanted to travel" would like to vacation in Europe after completing her Peace Corps service. She did not request a particular assignment when applying to the Peace Corps. She hopes to return from Brazil with the story of her trip in slides. Photography is "one of my newest hobbies," she said. She has no qualms about the venture, and seems more concerned about the airplane flight—her first—to Oklahoma than about two years in the wilds of Brazil.

Miss Kneip, known to her family and friends as "Cookie," which she now spells "Kuki," is a 1960 graduate of Appleton High School. She has studied Latin, which she hopes will be a good "stepping stone" to other foreign languages. She is looking forward to traveling in Brazil and South America during vacations, and is particularly anxious to see Rio de Janeiro.

Janice Kneip, One of Appleton's first Peace Corps volunteers, packs for her trip to the University of Oklahoma for two-months training period, to be followed by a two-year tour of duty in Brazil. Miss Kneip is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kneip, 1347 W. Lawrence St. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Miss Nancy Lesselyong, Peace Corps volunteer, finishes her last week of work at Appleton Memorial Hospital, where she is an instrument nurse in surgery. Miss Lesselyong, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Lesselyong, 1115 1/2 N. Lawe St., will leave Sunday for a training session at the University of Oklahoma and then for Brazil Oct. 23. (Post-Crescent Photo)
